

SPOTLIGHT

Need a cool summer getaway? California Adventure opens 'Frozen' 1F

SPORTS

Grizzlies gear up for Lincecum's Sunday start for Salt Lake 1C

SAVE UP TO $78 IN COUPONS INSIDE

SUNDAY, JUNE 12, 2016

$2

VOL. 187TH, No. 34090
STAY CONNECTED FRESNOBEE.COM

FACEBOOK.COM/FRESNOBEE
TWITTER.COM/FRESNOBEE

NEWS ALL DAY.
YOUR WAY.

Mostly cloudy
89°/63° See 12B

The Fresno Bee

PUBLIC HEALTH

Zika virus has Valley residents on edge

Zika outbreaks in 46 countries, many popular travel destinations for people from the central San Joaquin Valley

Fresno strength and conditioning coach taking precautions for trip to Rio Olympics

Fresno County has tested 19 people for the virus – none positive

BY BARBARA ANDERSON
banderson@fresnobee.com

Tim Thackrey is willing to sweat – a lot – to be safe at the Olympics in Rio de Janeiro.

The Fresno strength and conditioning coach intends to wear long pants, long-sleeved shirts and be covered in mosquito repellent for the six days he will be at the Games in August.

Thackrey, 36, doesn't want to take any chances of contracting Zika from a mosquito bite and infecting his wife, Carly Thackrey, who is pregnant and due to give birth to their first child in September.

Zika is spread by mosquitoes and also is spread sexually. The infection can cause devastating birth defects that include microcephaly, in which babies are born with abnormally small heads and brain damage. It also

SEE ZIKA, 17A

SILVIA FLORES sflores@fresnobee.com

VIDEO

Tim and Carly Thackrey, above, talk about their decision for Tim to travel to the Olympics in Brazil this summer. www.fresnobee.com/video

MORE INSIDE

Clovis relying on mosquito libido in fight to prevent Zika. Page 16A

Meet The Bee's 2016 Academic All-Stars

The Fresno Bee

Meet the 21st class of Fresno Bee Academic All-Stars, a group of students whose schedules would exhaust any hard-working adult.

They ace their studies, play volleyball or baseball, or excel in the band or on the stage.

They give a voice to student government. They help feed the poor or steward the planet. All aspire to something bigger – like Tranquillity High graduate Adrian Figueroa, who is headed to UCLA with goals of becoming an immigration lawyer.

Each year since 1996, The Bee has run a springtime program highlighting outstanding achievement by central San Joaquin Valley schoolchildren.

Students in grades 1 through 12 are nominated by school leaders and family members and then judged on academic achievement, community involvement and leadership within and outside of school.

Hannah Johnson, development officer for the Valley Children's Healthcare Foundation and one of this year's All-Star judges, sums up what reading those nominations is like: "They

MORE INSIDE

Read the student profiles, including honorable mentions. Pages 10A-14A all have incredible stories." Says Jim Boren, The Bee's executive editor: "We love telling the stories of these outstanding young people. They are role models for all of us, as they go about their days making this a better place to live."

LOCAL

THE BATTLE TO SHINE LIGHT ON CLOVIS ARREST

On a September night four years ago, George Macias Jr. was riding his motorcycle on Willow Avenue when a Clovis police officer pulled him over. What happened next to Macias is the subject of a federal civil rights lawsuit against the city of Clovis. 4A

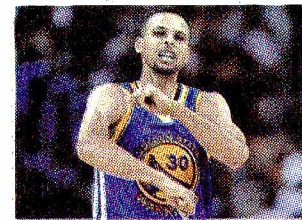

INSIGHT

SUNNYSIDE DEPARTMENT STORE TO CLOSE

Erna Bonetto is retiring after 28 years as owner, operator of 66-year-old southeast Fresno business. 1B

MORE ONLINE: WWW.FRESNOBEE.COM/ALLSTARS

MAREK WARSZAWSKI

Curry dispels all doubts, brings Warriors near NBA title repeat

PAGE 1C

LEWIS GRISWOLD

Visalia social host ordinance targets underage drinking

PAGE 6A

RETAIL THERAPY

New quilting stores sell vintage, modern fabric in Fresno

PAGE 3F

The Buzz
Classified
Obituaries
Opinion
Television

21A
1E
4B
10B
7F

FATHER'S DAY

Sunday, June 19

$25,000

GOLF, GIFT CARDS & FREE PLAY GIVEAWAY!

Drawings 12:30PM - 6PM | Earn Entries 4AM - 6PM

8184 Table Mountain Road, Friant, CA 93626 | 559.822.7777 | tmcasino.com

Must be a Club Member to participate in promotions. Visit The Club for details. Must be 18 years to game. Management reserves all rights. $25,000 Father's Day Giveaway: Activate entries at kiosk starting at 10AM

NEXT SUNDAY!

66

I'M FIGHTING TO MAKE THIS PUBLIC BECAUSE EVERYONE IN CLOVIS SHOULD KNOW THIS INFORMATION.

Charles Tony Piccuta, attorney for George Macias Jr.

Will judge unseal internal info about Clovis cops accused of beating motorcyclist?

Four officers accused of beating George Macias Jr. in 2012

Officers were told statements to internal affairs would be kept confidential

Lawyer wants federal judge to reconsider protective order

BY PABLO LOPEZ
plopez@fresnobee.com

On a September night four years ago, 20-year-old George Macias Jr. was riding his motorcycle on Willow Avenue when a Clovis police officer pulled him over.

What happened next to Macias is the subject of a federal civil rights lawsuit in which Macias contends four Clovis police officers savagely beat him while he was handcuffed and used a stun gun on him.

Police then arrested Macias on charges of resisting arrest.

All lies, attorney Charles Tony Piccuta says in court papers filed in U.S. District Court in Fresno. Piccuta and Panos Lagos represent Macias.

In fact, a Fresno County Superior Court jury in March 2014 found Macias not guilty of resisting arrest. Macias pleaded guilty to the traffic infraction of driving a motorcycle without a license, court records say.

Piccuta says the proof that officers Steve Cleaver, Cesar Gonzalez, Eric Taifane and Angel Velasquez fabricated their account is in his second-amended civil complaint against the city of Clovis. But the file includes redactions ordered by U.S. Magistrate Judge Barbara McAuliffe. The redacted information covers confidential internal affairs documents pertaining to the officers' account of the incident.

On June 17, Piccuta, who has filed a motion to unseal the information, will ask McAuliffe to reconsider her decision. "I'm fighting to make this public because everyone in Clovis should know this information," Piccuta said in a telephone interview.

In a letter to The Bee, Jenell Van Bindsbergen, an assistant city attorney for the city of Clovis, declined to even say whether the four officers are still on the police force, saying that information is confidential. (At least one, Cleaver, has since left the police force.)

Fresno attorneys James Weakley and Brande Gustafson, who are defending the city against Macias' lawsuit, want to keep the Police Department's internal affairs documents secret, saying in court papers the redacted information is not only confidential, but "impertinent, scandalous and prejudicial."

At the June 17 hearing, McAuliffe also will hear the city's lawyers' motion to have Macias' civil complaint dismissed or at minimum keep the redacted information secret and have some of the 10 causes of action against the

CHARLES PICCUTA Special to The Bee

A federal civil rights lawsuit accuses four Clovis police officers of beating then-20-year-old George Macias Jr. and using a stun gun on him in September 2012.

A JURY FOUND
GEORGE MACIAS
JR. NOT GUILTY OF
RESISTING ARREST
IN THE SEPTEMBER 2012 INCIDENT

officers stricken.

Macias, who turns 24 on June 16, was a 2010 Fresno Bee football all-star at Clovis East High School his senior year. The 6-foot-3, 230-pound tight end was a three-year starter.

He is seeking unspecified damages for alleged violation of his civil rights, assault, battery, excessive force, malicious prosecution and intentional infliction of emotional distress.

Court records give insight into the dispute:

Around 10:15 p.m. on Sept. 30, 2012, Macias was riding on Willow Avenue when he was pulled over near Gettysburg Avenue "because the light illuminating the motorcycle's license plate was not bright enough," the complaint says. Officer Cleaver soon discovered Macias was not licensed to operate a motorcycle.

Officer Gonzalez arrived as backup as Cleaver gave Macias a ticket and told him his motorcycle would be impounded. Meantime, Gonzalez took the keys out of the ignition. When Macias said he needed the ignition key to lock the motorcycle's front tires, Gonzalez gave it to him. Once that was done, Macias put the key in his pocket, signed the citation and left.

Soon after, Cleaver determined Macias had taken the ignition key and asked Gonzalez to go look for Macias. Gonzalez found Macias a half-mile away and asked Macias for the ignition key, but Macias refused. Gonzalez then informed Cleaver, who drove his patrol car to where Gonzalez was with Macias. "Upon exiting his patrol unit, officer Cleaver confronted (Macias) with his Taser drawn and announced that he was under arrest," the civil complaint says.

Cleaver ordered Macias to get down on his knees. Because Macias did not get on his knees fast enough, Cleaver told him that he would shoot him, "or words to that effect," the complaint says. Macias then got on his knees, crossed his legs at his ankles, and put his hands behind his back so Gonzalez could handcuff him.

Meantime, "Cleaver continued to fix the laser of the Taser on (Macias) while intensely staring at him in a threatening manner," the complaint says. Cleaver also accused Macias of flexing his muscles and told him if he didn't stop flexing, he would shoot him, the complaint says.

The two officers then put Macias in the back seat of Cleaver's patrol car. But because police "haphazardly put Macias in the patrol car," the complaint says, his knees were crunched up to his chest, his feet were off the floorboard, and his shoulders were hurting.

During the ride to the Fresno County Jail, Macias was able to move his handcuffed hands from his back to his lap in order to relieve his pain, the complaint says.

Cleaver and Macias were separated by a heavy-duty hard plastic and metal screen called a prisoner cage. The screen allowed them to see each other but not touch each other.

Once Cleaver learned Macias had repositioned his hands, he pulled over on Shaw Avenue near Highway 168. Macias tried to explain why he repositioned his hands, but Cleaver ignored him, the complaint says. Instead, Cleaver called for backup.

At this point, Macias grew apprehensive. "He believed something bad was going to happen to him," the complaint says. "He tried to calm himself down by intentionally slowing down his breathing as he went over a mental checklist of things to avoid: no talking, no sudden movement."

"He wanted to present a perfect picture of compliance and submission," the complaint says.

Within a few minutes, officers Gonzalez, Taifane and Velasquez showed up. The complaint says the officers cursed Macias and ordered him out of the patrol car. Once out, Macias "crunched himself over into a standing fetal position with the intention of minimizing his size and presenting body language emphasizing complete submission and compliance," the complaint says.

According to the complaint, Taifane got behind Macias and hit him "with a cross-face punch leading to a choke hold position." Meantime, Gonzalez yanked on the chain between the handcuffs which were on Macias' wrist and Velasquez punched Macias' face and head, the

SEE LAWSUIT, 5A

EYE-Q | Cataracts

"IT'S DEFINITELY WHERE you want to be"

EYE-Q Cataract Surgery Patient,
Alisia Chapanot

"Go to EYE-Q. The service I got there, the result, the people, it was very personable... and it was just easy."

When it's time for cataract surgery, choose the experts at EYE-Q. It's quick, it's painless, and the results can change your life. EYE-Q Vision Care.

Putting life into focus.

EYE-Q | LIFE into focus.

559-370-4807 • FresnoCataract.com

Used New Holland Boomer 3050 Tractors

$28,500

With Cabs Between 500
and 1100 hours
Some Factory
Warranty Left

KERN MACHINERY

CALL OUR SALES STAFF
BAKERSFIELD
(661) 833-9900
520 S. Mt. Vernon Avenue
cbrummer@kminc.com

CALL OUR SALES STAFF
BUTTONWILLOW
(661) 746-6363
24526 Lerdo Highway
ggiesick@kminc.com

CALL OUR SALES STAFF
DELANO
(661) 725-3841
310 High Street
mgodinho@kminc.com

FROM PAGE 4A

LAWSUIT

complaint says. Cleaver then shot Macias twice with the stun gun, allowing officers to slam Macias' face into the concrete sidewalk.

While on the ground, Macias says the officers took off his handcuffs and continued to pummel his face and yank his arms into unnatural and painful positions. The officers also placed Macias' legs "in a figure-four, leg-lock," the complaint says.

Screaming in pain, Macias says the officers cursed him and kept striking him. He then lost consciousness. "When he regained consciousness, emergency medical personnel had arrived and (Macias') hands were cuffed behind his back," the complaint says. An ambulance took him to Community Regional Medical Center in downtown Fresno. After he received treatment for his injuries, he was booked into jail. His family then posted bail.

The next eight paragraphs in the complaint are redacted.

Piccuta says in court papers that Cleaver asked the District Attorney's Office to prosecute Macias "in an effort to cover up and substantiate his wrongdoing." He said the other officers "were later required to try to validate and verify" Cleaver's account.

"The protective order that was entered in this action unjustly prohibits the dissemination of the truth," Piccuta says in his motion to unseal the redacted information. "Specifically, this court has a duty to see that this information is not concealed from the public so that other individuals who have been wrongfully arrested, convicted and incarcerated ... may be vindicated," he says.

“IMPERTINENT, SCANDALOUS AND PREJUDICIAL.”

How lawyers for the city of Clovis describe information contained in court files that they want to keep private. An attorney for the man suing the city in the case says the redacted information is from Clovis Police Department internal affairs documents.

Court papers say the city sought the protective order to shield the officers and their families from retaliation from subjects that the officers have arrested. Because the officers were assured their statements would remain confidential, public disclosure of their statements could lead other officers to not come forward with important information in future internal affairs investigations, the documents say.

But Piccuta says there is a legal presumption that papers filed in court are public. He also says an officer's account of an event "is precisely the kind of information that should be made known and not hidden."

"If an officer is hiding information that he is not willing to divulge because it could implicate him in misconduct giving rise to civil liability, this is all the more reason he should be required to disclose it or be dismissed from his position," he says.

Pablo Lopez: 559-441-6434, @beecourts

GARY KAZANJIAN Fresno Bee file

In 2010, George Macias was a Fresno Bee all-star football player at Clovis East High School. Macias (5) goes up against Clovis West players Gerald Nutt (13) and James Bitter for a pass during a game that season.

THE PLAINTIFF, GEORGE MACIAS JR., WAS A 2010 FRESNO BEE ALL-STAR FOOTBALL PLAYER AT CLOVIS EAST HIGH SCHOOL HIS SENIOR YEAR. THE 6-FOOT-3, 230-POUND TIGHT END WAS A THREE-YEAR STARTER.

Celebrating 26 years!

Elmore Medical
Vein & Laser Treatment Center
The Central Valley's Vein Experts Since 1990
MARIO H. GONZALEZ, M.D.

TREATMENTS
Endovenous Laser Therapy (EVLT)
Duplex Ultrasound Imaging (in office)
Ultrasound Guided Sclerotherapy
Treatment of Leg Spider Veins
Cosmetic treatment of veins on face and body
Vein treatment on hands and feet
Ambulatory Phlebectomy

(559) 435-VEIN
elmoremedical.com
7131 N. 11th Street, Suite 101
Fresno, CA 93720
Se Habla Español

SUMMER SAVINGS
LOMAX...
YOUR LOCAL
Window & Door
REPLACEMENT SPECIALIST

LOW PRICE GUARANTEED
FREE ESTIMATES
PLY GEM
LIC#951707

ANY 2-PANEL WINDOW
STARTING AT
$185
Minimum of 4-Windows, Limited Time

ASK ABOUT TRIPLE PANE UPGRADE

LOMAX
WINDOW AND DOOR CO.

5816 E. SHIELDS, #105
FRESNO, CA 93727
(559) 708-4697
lomaxwindows.com

SE HABLA ESPAÑOL
BBB
Financing Available
OAC

BIGGER WINNERS, MORE OFTEN.

RESERVE YOUR SEAT TODAY!

ONLY $10
from Fresno and get $10 FREE Play

Visit chukchansigold.com for bus line schedules.

$1,100,000

STRIKE IT RICH GIVEAWAY
SWIPE DAILY
FOR A CHANCE AT $500,000!
EVERY SWIPE WINS!

$15,000 Cash Giveaway Every Friday!

$10,000 Cash PLUS a Chevrolet Truck Giveaway Every Saturday!

3x Entries every Wednesday
Earn Entries Daily!

12 HOT SEAT WINNERS EVERY WEDNESDAY!

NOW - JUNE 29, 5PM - 9PM

Win a chance to enter the Chukchansi Cash Cube and grab your share of $43,000!

Only at Chukchansi!

CHUKCHANSI GOLD
RESORT & CASINO

Hwy 41 North To Coarsegold | chukchansigold.com | 866.794.6946

Must be 21 years of age or older and a Chukchansi Rewards Club member. All guests must have a valid government issued photo ID acceptable to management for all Chukchansi Rewards Club transactions. Management reserves all rights to cancel or modify all offers, promotions and/or events without prior notice. Strike It Rich: Limit one free swipe earned per day. Must be present to win. Cash Grab: Must be actively playing with Chukchansi Rewards Card properly inserted and accepted by machine or Table Games personnel.